Information We Collect

We collect personal information from you through the use of forms, which may be on paper or on our Websites. We collect personal information when you make an enquiry or place an order for vehicles, parts or services. We will use this information to provide the products or services requested, maintain guarantee and service records and to tell you about other products and services we think may be of interest to you. Please note we record our telephone calls for training and quality purposes.

Data collected about you by the Company will be used to (a) fulfil any service or order you may request, (b) improve customer service, for example by conducting surveys, (c) to send marketing and other communications to you, and (d) enable us to contact you about safety issues, servicing and MOTs. We may also, from time to time, want to share new and exclusive offers with you. Your personal information may be shared with other subsidiaries of the Company, the vehicle manufacturer and selected third parties. Some of these selected third parties may be based outside the EEA in countries that do not have the same standards of protection for personal information as the UK. We will, however, always use every reasonable effort to ensure sufficient protections are in place to safeguard your personal information.

We, and third parties including Toyota GB, DVLA, Toyota financial services and others who we have shared may contact you with information about products and services that we, or the third parties, think may be of interest to you. We and the third parties will only contact you with such marketing if you provide your consent and select at least one preferred contact method, including direct mail, telephone, SMS or email. In order to stay up to date with the latest motoring news and events from the Company we may contact you in the methods indicated by your chosen preferences. We aim to improve the customer experience and may survey new and existing customers using standard market survey techniques from time to time. We regularly review our data retention periods and will only hold your personal data for as long as it is necessary, or as required by law, or as set out in any relevant contract we have with you.

Fair Collection Notice

Lindop Toyota takes data protection seriously.

When we have a new product, service, offer or exciting event, we'll tell you about it by sending you personalised communications by email, phone, SMS or post. We, Lindop Toyota, rely on 'legitimate interest' as the legal basis upon which to process your personal data for this purpose. We want to put you in control of your data at all times, so please inform your Sales Consultant when prompted, if you do not wish to receive personalised communications.

We'll also remind you when your service is due, or other products purchased from us are due for renewal, as well as periodically inviting you to participate in research and customer satisfaction activities.

For further information on how Lindop Toyota processes your data, including exercising your rights, please visit refer to the relevant sections of this Privacy Policy, or ask your Sales Consultant for a copy of our Privacy Policy.

Important:

When you purchase a product or service from us, we will share your details with Toyota (GB) Plc. Toyota (GB) Plc may send you a communication requesting your consent to receive marketing from them.

We want to put you in control of your data at all times, so please inform your Sales Consultant when prompted if you do not wish Toyota (GB) Plc to make contact. Toyota's Privacy Policy can be found at
